

REACH Declaration of Conformity

Plastechnik AG specializes in manufacturing sophisticated plastic/injection molded parts in great quantities which ultimately are used in many different fields. The raw materials (plastic granules) necessary are purchased from suppliers in Switzerland and Europe, then turned into "products" through the injection molding process. Therefore, our products are not to be defined as substances or preparations. Additionally, no substances are released from our products under normal and foreseeable conditions of use. Thus, Plastechnik AG is neither subject to registration nor obligated to compile material safety data sheets.

In order to ensure the safety of the supply chain and in the interest of the greatest product safety possible, we also require and track the implementation of REACH on the part of our suppliers. The assurance of REACH conformity is a part of our supplier approval process and is also required by us for every individual order of material (plastic granules).

RoHS Declaration of Conformity

We hereby confirm that our supplies and services are in conformity with Directive 2011/65/EU (RoHS). This statement is in reference to those supplies and services which are subject to the aforementioned directive and insofar as no exemption clauses for specific uses exist.
